The 1953 Coronation photographs were taken by Charles Woolf a well-known Newquay photographer who had a shop and studio in Chester Road for many years. He was Chairman and President of Newquay Old Cornwall Society and much of his archive of Newquay and Cornish photographs were donated to the Society as well as other institutions. Charles Woolf images have formed an important part of the Newquay Museum archive collection run by Newquay Old Cornwall Society. They should be mentioned collectively as part of the 'Charles Woolf Collection'.

The Queen's Platinum Jubilee Beacon Trail

Welcome to the Queen's Jubilee Storytrail! If this is your first of our QR code / Augmented Reality trails please expand and read the 'How to Play' below to get started.

This trail is an interactive experience, as you visit the storypoints in order, you'll collect digital stamps, learn more of the story and be able to take selfies with some AR characters.

Once upon a time, Queen Elizabeth II was just a little girl, praying to have a brother because that would mean she wouldn't have to be Queen! It didn't take long for her to get used to the idea though and when she was 21 years-old, in a radio broadcast (before mobile phones or even colour television!), she said: "I declare before you that my whole life, whether it be long or short, shall be devoted to your service and the service of the great imperial commonwealth to which we all belong." It turns out that her life has been very long indeed and she has stuck to her word, serving the commonwealth for seventy years!

At each stop, we'll give you a few facts from each decade of her reign, from the 1950's, right up to today.

A Royal Day Out: The Story So Far..

On this particular morning, Sir Barnaby Beacon was getting ready to have one of the most important days of his life. They were lighting his beacon in honour of the Queen's Platinum Jubilee! He couldn't have been more excited, but there was still lots to do to get ready for the celebration. Sir Barnaby was quite busy getting himself ready, when his friend, Cherry Chandelier came in and asked him for help setting up the party. He told her that he was rather too busy getting himself ready and wouldn't be able to help at all! Cherry looked quite upset and left without another word.

A little while later, Sir Barnaby was looking for Cherry to find out where to go for the party, but much to his surprise everyone had already left! What a disaster! He'd been so busy that he forgot to ask where the party was. He was about to run out after them when he spotted a note pinned to door. It read, 'I'm getting ready for the Jubilee, but you won't be able to celebrate without me! I'll be waiting for you at the beacon's end, you'll find me by speaking to a friend. Cherry.'

He was very confused by this! There was nothing else he could do except walk into town and look for 'a friend'.

Why don't you come along and join Sir Barnaby on his stroll.
Let's get to the bottom of this!

Newquay Lions Platinum Jubilee parade

Saturday 4 June at 6pm
through the Town of Newquay

We are planning a colourful, community, family, fun evening with many local organisations taking part to celebrate this fantastic occasion.

The parade will cover the seven decades of the Queen's reign with floats displaying memorable events for each decade. Members of the public have been asked to dress for a decade of their choice and to join the parade following the festival float for those years. There will be memorable music from each decade to sing and dance to along the route.

The parade will be led by outriders with flashing lights and flags but there is an unusual twist to these individuals, a guard of honour of young adults from the community looking very smart in their uniforms will walk along beside the parade making sure everyone is safe. The floats will be pulled by vintage tractors and decorated by local community groups to highlight what they depict to be a memorable event of the decade over the time of the Queens rule.

This parade will be a truly community event to celebrate something which may never happen again and in years to come the local youths and young children of today will be able to say they were there to experience, celebrate and join in this fun.

Newquay Lions would also like to invite as many visitors to the area to come and join us, dress for a decade, dance and sing along with the music and make it part of your holiday experience.

Come along and enjoy this fantastic tribute to the Queen and have something to remember for years to come.

Saturday June 4th at The Newquay Library

The Brains of Newquay

Sunday 5 June at Newquay Golf Club

Charities and good causes which support the Newquay and district area are being invited to take part in this year's Brains of Newquay Quiz where literally each team's good cause will walk away with AT LEAST £50 and the top three teams could win up to £400, £300 and £200 respectively.

The annual quiz this year will take place at Newquay Golf Club on the evening of Sunday 5 June and will form part of the Platinum Jubilee weekend celebrations. It will be open to 20 teams of maximum four players to take part at just £10 per team which covers the cost of a pasty supper.

Each team must be representing a charity or recognised local good cause and the prize money will be paid direct to those causes represented after the quiz. There will a specific Royal Jubilee themed section of questions so start buffing up on your knowledge of the monarchy.

The prize money is from Newquay Towan Blystra Lions Club's community fund which contains the money raised from the club's activities during the course of the year such as Newquay Beer Festival, Santa's Sleigh and other fundraising initiatives.

Lion President Jill Bunt said: "This is always a very popular event and we hope this year will be no different. It is a novel and fun way for us to redistribute the funds we raise from the very generous people of our town and further afield."

To register an interest in taking part just email your name, the name of your team and the charity or good cause you would like to support to president@newquaytowanblystralions.org.uk or give us a ring us on 0345 833 4981. We have to limit the number of teams to 20 and would like to try and have each team represent a different good cause. Therefore, once we have received your email or call we will review these details and may ask some teams to consider changing the cause they wish to represent if they are already being supported.
